

Advisory Board Terms of Reference

The Advisory Board is an independent body of individuals with relevant expertise and connections to key Hub stakeholders, including designates from UKRI and the Hub cohort.

The Advisory Board will:

- Have a watching brief over the whole project;
- Advise the Principal Investigator and Executive Group on Hub strategy and progress;
- Provide oversight on the budget;
- Oversee the management and mitigation of project risks;
- Contribute to the annual report to UKRI;
- Act as ultimate arbiter of grievances within the Hub;
- Facilitate links between Hub and relevant partners, research projects and policy fields;
- Represent interests of key stakeholders.

The Advisory Board will meet in person once each year, and at least 6 weeks before the annual review. Individual board members may also be called on for advice through the year, according to expertise and availability. Specialist sub-groups may be formed at the request of the Chair and the Principal Investigator.

Advisory Board Members (at January 2020)

- Erik Berglof is Director of the Institute of Global Affairs, LSE and former Chief Economist and Special Adviser to the President of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development.
- Hannah Bond is Director of Gender Action for Peace and Security (GAPS) and has worked with CSOs and government in the UK and Global South.
- Andrea Cornwall (Chair) is Pro-Director at SOAS, University of London. She specialises in the anthropology of democracy, citizen participation, participatory research, gender and sexuality.
- Fiifi Edu-Afful is a Senior Research Fellow and the Deputy Program Head of the Peace Support Operations Programme at the Kofi Annan International Peacekeeping Training Centre, Ghana.

- Erika Rodríguez Gómez is the Gender and Vulnerable Populations Expert in the Human Rights Program of the United States Agency for International Development in Colombia.
- Roshmi Goswami is a feminist and human rights activist known for her pioneering work documenting and analysing the impact of war and conflict on the lives of women in the conflict affected regions of India.
- Greg Meredith is Senior Research Portfolio Manager (Education and International Development) at the Economic and Social Science Research Council, and one of two UKRI project Officers for the Hub
- Vasuki Nesiah is a legal scholar in public international law and the politics of international human rights and humanitarianism, with a particular focus on transitional justice.
- Rebecca Newell is Head of Art at the Imperial War Museum (IWM) where she works on all aspects related to the care, display and interpretation of the IWM art collection.
- er for Languages, Literature, and Area Studies at the Arts and Humanities Research Council and UKRI Lead Project Officer for the Gender, Justice and Security Hub.
- Patricia Viseur Sellers is an international criminal lawyer and Special Advisor for Gender for the Office of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court. She advises governments and international institutions on the strategic investigation and prosecution of sexual violence.
- Tahrat Shahid is Challenge Leader, Global Challenges Research Fund and has over a decade of international development and policy research experience in a variety of contexts.
- Inger Skjelsbæk is Research Professor in political psychology at Centre for Gender, Peace and Security, Peace Research Institute Oslo, and Associate Professor in culture and community psychology at the University of Oslo.
- Rainatou Sow is the founder and executive director of Make Every Woman Count, an African woman-led organisation which serves as an information, advocacy and training platform for women and young people by building their leadership capacities.
- Tom Stranks is part of the International Development and Area Studies team at the Arts and Humanities Research Council and works predominately on the conflict portfolio. He is one of two UKRI project officers for the Hub.
- Sally Theobald is Principal Investigator of the UKRI GCRF Accountability for Informal Urban Equity Hub and professor in Social Science and International Health at the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine.
- Innocent Balemba Zahinda, a national of the Democratic Republic of Congo, is Director of the United Nations Team of Experts on Rule of Law/Sexual Violence in Conflict in New York.
- Salome Zuriel is the Conflict Advisor at the UK's Department for International Development in Kenya.

